Objectives

- To improve maternal and child health.
- To contribute practice of family planning.
- To ensure the reach of reproductive health education to every individual including adolescents.
Why Maternal Mortality is important?

- Important measure of human and socioeconomic development
- Reveal women’s overall status, access to health
- Identify risks of pregnancy and childbirth
- Diagnosing issues
- Effectiveness of existing programs
Why do women die during delivery?

Every day, approximately 830 women die from preventable causes related to pregnancy and childbirth. (WHO)
89 % of pregnancy-related deaths were preventable
How to prevent this?

Approximately 15 percent of all births are complicated by a potentially fatal condition that requires emergency care (World Health Organization, 1999)

Prenatal Care
Poor women in remote areas are the least likely to receive adequate health care. It is especially true for regions with low numbers of skilled health workers. Millions of births are not assisted by a midwife, a doctor or a trained nurse.

Factors influencing lack of access to health services

- Poverty
- Distance
- Lack of information
- Inadequate services
- Cultural Practices
“High number of maternal deaths in some areas of the world reflects inequities in access to health services, and highlights the gap between rich and poor.”

“Helping women and their newborns to thrive, and also to be empowered to transform their communities.”
